

THE CENTRAL RECORD

LANCASTER, KY., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 9 1903.

FOURTEENTH YEAR.

NUMBER 23

Of Local Interest.

Pumpkin pie is ripe.

A good rain fell Sunday night and Monday.

The small boys' hands are black with "walnut" stain.

A big crowd took in the Cincinnati excursion Sunday.

The engines for the waterworks arrived last week and will be placed in position as soon as the building is completed. The latter is located just below the dam, and is being made of brick.

Teachers' Money.

Mrs. Walker, county superintendent, tells The Record that twenty per cent of the teachers' money will be ready Saturday, Oct. 10. This will be paid to those having their report in the office.

The colored teachers institute is in session at the court house this week, with a large attendance. Much interest is manifested, and the singing at opening and closing is exceptionally fine. Prof J. A. Murrel, of the local school, is presiding over the institute.

Deserved Tribute.

During the meetings of the W. C. T. U. Col. Bain, of Lexington, delivered two addresses, which were greatly enjoyed by as many people as could pack into the Christian church. Col. Bain is one of the leading speakers in the United States, and a very deservedly popular gentleman. In his address Sunday afternoon, referred to the many prominent people Garrard county had produced, and spoke especially of the ladies. Among the number he paid a beautiful tribute to Miss Christine Bradley, closing by quoting from his speech in presenting the silver service to the battleship, Kentucky, these words:

Heaven bless Christine Bradley, who, by her example, said I christen thee Kentucky, With water from the spring That enriched the life of Lincoln, Whose praise the sailors sing, I christen thee Kentucky, With prayers of woman, true, That wine, the curse of sailors, May never curse your crew; I christen thee, Kentucky, And may this christening be A lesson of safety ever To sailors on the sea.

When he mentioned her name, the applause was great, and when he used the quotation above the hand-clapping continued for some time. Miss Bradley is very dear to Lancaster people, her old home, and no one enjoys more sincere well-wishes than she.

To Back Tobacco Growers.

The Security Warehouse Company of New York has offered to finance the Kentucky Burley Tobacco Growers' Association's scheme to the extent of $10,000,000. The scheme is to control the sale of the entire production of Burley.

Played Ball Here.

Many Lancaster people will remember Howard Camnitz, the Hustonville ball player who played here during the Graded School tournament. Last week Mr. Camnitz was signed by the Pittsburgh National League team to pitch there next year. He is a nephew of Col. Ed Hopper, of this city, and a young man of splendid moral habits. His home is in Hustonville.

Didn't Know How.

A certain Lancaster man, at whose home several W. C. T. U. delegates were being entertained, almost starved, as he remained away from his meals because he would be expected to return thanks at the table. His name will be printed in next issue of this paper.

Last Sermon.

Rev J. E. Wolford preached his last sermon at the local Baptist church Sunday, and left Monday for Louisville, where he will continue as to accepting a call to California. His family will leave in a few days. The church has not yet decided as to who they will call, but a preacher will be secured at an early day.

Garrard County Teachers.

The Garrard Teachers Association met at Cartersville Saturday. Quite an interesting program was carried out, and to Mr. Ledford, the president was due the success of the meeting. Several teachers were absent to attend the funeral of Mr. E. W. Baker, on whose death the following resolutions were passed:

1st That the teaching corps had no more beloved teacher in its ranks. 2nd That we have lost one of our most efficient teachers and faithful friends, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to his bereaved family. Mrs. Gulley, Sect'y.

Pretty Millinery.

The weather was most too warm for the openings of fall and winter millinery last Saturday, but a good crowd came in anyway and the different establishments were crowded all day. We have never heard so much favorable comment as was made on the stock this season, the ladies seeming delighted with every they saw. The local dealers have brought on the best the market affords, and nowhere can better styles be found. The prices this year are remarkably low, and you will make a mistake to purchase a hat before you see the many beautiful ones now on display at the Lancaster establishments.

A Wonderful Mare.

Our countryman, Mr. George B. Robinson, is being congratulated on the wonderful record his great Mare, Vesta Dare, is making. She has made seventeen shows this season and won sixteen first and one second premium. These have been made at the leading fairs in the state, the State Fair, at Owensboro and the Louisville Horse show, so you will see what company she's been in. She was taken from the State Fair to Louisville Horse show and there won first in her class and third in the walk, trot, canter class. The Louisville Horse Show is said to have been the best America has ever had. She is two years old and sired by that great sire of saddle horses, Chester Dare, dam by On Time. She was handled by the expert trainer, C. T. Sandidge, of Lincoln county. Horsemen say her equal cannot be found in Kentucky, nor do we believe there is another like her in the United States. These honors have been won in the saddle, harness and model rings.

Gov. Bradley Seriously Ill.

Courier-Journal:—Former Gov. W. O. Bradley is confined to his home and his physician is of the opinion that he is threatened with typhoid fever. For the past six weeks Mr. Bradley has been complaining, a chronic bowel trouble with complications having given him the most trouble. For four or five days he has had some fever, and while it has made him feel ill at times it has not prevented him from getting down to his law office and transacting business. Sunday his case took a sudden turn for the worse and he has been confined to his bed ever since. Mr. Bradley was at first under the impression that he was suffering with a touch of malaria, and this may yet turn out to be the case, though the symptoms now indicate typhoid. Mr. Bradley's friends are alarmed over his condition, though the doctors said that he did not believe there was any great cause for fear. The former Governor has always enjoyed splendid health, and even though his illness should develop into a case of typhoid fever the physicians who have attended him at various times are of the opinion that his constitution would be strong enough to resist the attack. Mr. Bradley's exertions in behalf of Mr. A. E. Wilson in the Republican race for the gubernatorial nomination is believed to have aggravated the trouble from which he has been suffering.

Some scoundrel stole about twenty-five nice chickens from Captain White Tuesday night. The captain was seen buying buckshot Wednesday.

The Ladies Aid Society will have an important meeting at Mrs. Jennie West's Saturday at 2:30 o'clock. All members will please be present. The annual election of officers will also be held.

Good Show.

The Crescent Comedy Company, or Hawthorn Sisters, well-known and remembered here, for their splendid attractions in the past, with rare specialties, song and dance, will be at the Court House October 15, 16 and 17.

If the Farmer Struck.

Suppose the farmers of this country should decide to stop the plow and hang up the hoe for a year, what would be the result? Misers may hoard their money and create a panic the miners may go out on a strike and produce a coal famine; the manufacturer may close his factory and cut short the supply of some important article of commerce, the oil king may plug the oil wells of the United States and of the world, and in spite of all these calamities the people would find some way to get along. But let the farmers of this country go on a strike for a year and see what would happen. —Earlington Bee.

Good Move.

We heard many compliments passed by the W. C. T. U., visitors on the pretty decorations in the windows of many Lancaster business houses. Some were fixed up in splendid style, and many pretty designs made. Several had large hatchets worked in as a compliment to Mrs. Nation, we suppose, while all bore the words, "Welcome, W. C. T. U." We don't see why merchants do not fix up their windows all the time. It is not much trouble, and adds greatly to the appearance of the store. The people look upon a store with dirty show windows as they do upon a store whose advertisement does not appear in the local paper, that is "Pretty short and behind the times, people."

Death of Walker Baker.

News of the death of E. W. Baker, which occurred at his home in Wallace ton Friday, was a great shock to his many friends. The Record received a note early last week announcing his illness, but we later heard that he was better. He attended the institute here only a few weeks since, in best of health, but on his return home contracted typhoid fever, which caused his death. The people of the county are so familiar with the many sterling traits of Walker Baker that it is useless for us to here attempt to repeat them. A true Christian, a noble gentleman and an honest citizen were some of characteristics which made up the man who will be sadly missed by those who knew him best. As a teacher he had few equals and his presence, as stated in resolutions elsewhere in this issue, will be greatly missed. He was a good friend to this paper, and a personal friend of its editor. To the grief-stricken family we extend our deepest sympathy.

No Show For Drinking Man.

Somerset Journal:—Is the Cincinnati Southern Railroad going to build a large hotel at Somerset for its employees? That is an unconfirmed rumor. The stringent rules adopted by the Q. & C. regarding the use of intoxicating liquor among its employees is a subject of much interest in railroad circles. An order was recently put in force here and at Ludlow, which prohibits the calling of any of the trainmen to service from a saloon or any building near a saloon. So rigid was the order that an employee cannot board in a hotel where intoxicants are sold. Any employee seen coming from a saloon is as good as discharged, for such has been the fate of all trainmen seen about such places. The outcome of this new departure has been the ground of many conjectures. The common talk among the railroaders is that the Company will build three large hotels on the road for the accommodation of its men, and that one of them will be built here.

SUCCESSFUL MEETING.

The W. C. T. U., closed its sessions in this city Tuesday Night. New Officers Elected.

After a most interesting and profitable session, the state W. C. T. U., closed its annual meeting, in this city, Tuesday night. The program, published in last issue of The Record, was carried out to the letter and all the delegates spoke of the meeting as being very beneficial in every way. The address of Mrs. Beachamp, giving a synopsis of the past year's work, was read by that lady at the opening meeting, and was highly satisfactory to all. The address of Hon. Geo. Bain, Sunday afternoon, was one of the most enjoyable features, and the audience packed the Christian church, many being unable to gain admission. The gold medal contest, Saturday night, was largely attended, and a splendid contest given. The handsome medal was given Miss Lou White, of Fayette county. We regret that lack of space forbids our going into a detailed account of the meeting, but our friends, the advertisers are wedged in to every corner of The Record this week, and it is absolutely impossible for us to print report of each transaction. However, most of this work was routine, and as all the delegates were there they are familiar with what was done. The reports from different committees show some remarkably good work during the past year, and the liberal subscriptions from different parts of the state show the great interest the ladies have worked up for the temperance cause. They have established a school in the mountains, which in itself is a monument to the state W. C. T. U. They have representatives all over the mountains organizing Unions, and the liberal contributions some of these have made show great interest among the members. Interesting addresses were also made by Miss Laura Clay, of Lexington, Mrs. Nellie Arnsperger, of same city and others of prominence. We were particularly struck by the handsome, refined and intelligent appearance of the delegates, they showing thereby that they come from the best families in the state, and those of our citizens who entertained them say they have never had the pleasure of meeting a body of more refined, pleasant and agreeable ladies. Their visit was enjoyable to our people, and all trust we will again have the pleasure of their presence within our gates.

The people of Lancaster feel under obligations to the local Union for securing this meeting. It brought to our town speakers who would never be heard here, and also brought into our midst a number of elegant people, whose company had the effect of bringing our people closer together, forming stronger social ties, and the noble, Christian spirit which prevailed was an example for those who shut themselves in from the world, never seeking the company of their neighbors or friends. As stated above, it was one of the most beneficial gatherings the town ever had. It also brought before our people the great work the local Union is striving to accomplish, and those now stand willing to aid the Union with both work and finances who formerly turned a cold shoulder to all appeals for assistance.

Still Trying.

There is still the movement to give the present city councilmen opposition, but it is proving a hard matter to find men who will allow their names to be used. If it were not for the fact that the present board had on hand the carrying out of the largest undertaking the town has ever had, it would not make any difference whether they remained in or not, but, as stated in last issue of The Record, these men are thoroughly familiar with every detail of the matter, and it is not wise to put in men unfamiliar with the situation. Its a bad idea to swap horses in the middle of a race. We don't believe the people will stand for this, simply because a few fellows want jobs.

MARKSBURY.

Robert Rout bought at Danville, a nice horse for $130.

Mr. C. A. Robinson has been confined to his room for several days.

T. I. Herring sold a fat cow to B. F. Robinson at 21¢ per pound.

Mrs. T. D. Chesnut has returned from a pleasant visit to Lebanon.

Mr. Fernando West of Kansas City, Mo., spent last Friday with relatives here.

The Ladies Working Society met Thursday afternoon, with Mrs. M. F. Rout.

Mr. T. L. Broddus purchased of Tom Baker some butcher stuff at 21¢s. per pound.

Miss Hallie Royston of Paint Lick, was the guest Sunday of Miss Georgie Dunn.

Mr. Layton and family of McCreary, spent several days last week with Mrs. Will Broadus.

Mr. N. H. Bogie is erecting a new barn, which greatly improves the appearance of his premises.

A number from here attended the Temperance Address at Lancaster Saturday evening, by Mrs. Carrie Nation.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

To Be Voted On at the November Election.

CHAPTER 50.

An act to provide for an amendment to Section 181 of the Constitution of Kentucky.

"The General Assembly may, by general laws only, authorize CITIES OR TOWNS OF ANY CLASS to provide for taxation for municipal purposes, on personal property, tangible and intangible, based on income, license or franchise, in lieu of an ad valorem tax thereon;

"Provided, cities of the first class shall not be authorized to omit the imposition of an ad valorem tax on such property of any steam railroad, street railway, ferry, bridge, gas, water, heating, telephone, telegraph, electric light or electric power company."

CENTRAL RECORD.

LOUIS LANDRAM.

Lancaster, Ky., October 9, 1903.

The body of millionaire Tuttle, of Connecticut, who was buried this week, was placed in a casket inclosed in a burglar proof metallic box or vault, so constructed that once the lid was shut and locks snapped into place the vault can not be opened without several hours of work, unless dynamite was used. The lid of the vault is fastened by twelve automatic locks and bars, and to open the vault it would be necessary to saw through every bar. All this precaution will doubtless keep out grave robbers, but imagine the smile which came over the devil's countenance as he reached through the iron barriers and exclaimed, "Come, Tut, old boy, you're my meat." If Brer Tuttle had used his dollars as he should, there would be no need of an iron casket.

A family Altar Band has been organized in Virginia. Its object, as its name suggests, is to promote family worship. Meetings are held from house to house to organize and assist in the service. Home altars are being restored and new ones are being established. A few years ago, family prayers were held in all families who professed to be Christians, but the custom is, sad to say, rapidly playing out. Its all the average person can do to attend church service once a week, to say nothing of having family worship in his home. If the sound of the average "Christian's" voice were sent up to heaven, it would jar all the harps out of tune.

The Paris Gazette, (Democratic) very truthfully says that "the days of abuse have passed and it is not the style now, in the more enlightened communities, to appeal to men's passions, and it would be real nice and sensible like if our campaign orators could realize these truths." But then there seems to be no "enlightened communities," for every Democratic speaker is abusing the Republican party, and every Republican stumper is abusing the Democratic party. This is a horrible campaign. If half that is being said is true there ought to be 200,000 men hung in Kentucky.

Editor Allen, of the Cynthiana Democrat, who always knows what he is talking about, says: "Abuse comes for nothing in a political campaign. Blackguardism tickles the fancy of blackguards only. The day of such things has passed. Votes are won by respectable and intelligent discussion of public affairs. Not by any means are all intelligent voters 'on the fence,' but as a rule voters 'on the fence' are intelligent men."

The Washington correspondent of the Courier Journal makes a pretty broad assertion when he says "If all the immoral employees of the Government should be discharged the Government at Washington would soon go out of business." While we know Washington is no Sunday School, yet it is hard to believe all its population walk in the broad road that leads to destruction. Its the correspondent's place to know what he is talking about, however.

If all candidates for congress were as well equipped and deserving as is our old friend, E C Smith, of the Carleton Democrat, it would be a difficult matter to cast one's ballot. Bro. Smith has, at the solicitation of many friends, decided to shy his castor into the ring, and if the voters down there know what is best for their interests, they will select him.

There is a movement on foot to change the name of the great national drink, "beer," and call it by some other name. The name is all right. What should be invented is a plan to do away with that awful "next morning" head that follows the drinking of the refreshing beverage.

Some close observer of passing events, more than likely Jim Allen, editor of the Cynthiana Democrat, has discovered and reports the following: "A woman is so naturally deceptive that no matter how short her legs are she can dress so as to make herself look as if they began under her arm-pits."

The Somerset Journal says the man who says he is going to die for principle is usually the first fellow to climb into the band wagon when the band begins to play; whether it plays his tune or not.

The automobile always balks at a X-rays will cure that terrible growth of gray hair, but as yet a cure for X-ray burns has not been devised.

The Oregon minister who went to Boston and informed the bean eaters that the West has a personal devil must have had domestic trouble with his wife.

Senator Hanna denies the report that he is sick enough to die. The senator couldn't think of dying with another presidential campaign coming on.

The average pretty girl is hard enough to catch now, but what will the men do when the eel pattern of dress is adopted?

dangerous spot in the road, but then it must be remembered that the old family horse always runs away on a crowded street.

A circus is going to Somerset, and Editor Seph Campbell is as proud as a little boy in his first pants.

MRS. CARRIE NATION.

The Noted Temperance Worker Visits Her Birth Place in This County.

The announcement in The Record that Mrs. Carrie Nation would visit her old home in Garrard county created much interest among the people, and queries on all sides were made as to when she would be here, would she speak, etc. The Record had the pleasure of a long chat with her, and found her to be a well educated lady, a fluent talker, and above all a most earnest worker in the cause of temperance. We asked her why she began smashing saloons. "Well," said she, "out in Kansas the prohibition laws were being wholly disregarded. The sale of strong drink brought trouble right to my home. I did everything in a woman's power to stop it, but to no avail. Finally I became desperate, and after a short search, I located one of the hell-holes. God seemed to say 'Destroy it!' and I grabbed a hatchet and proceeded to demolish it. God told me to continue the work of destruction, and His command has had a telling effect, in that my work has attracted National attention, the oil-cans have been awakened to a sense of duty, and today prohibitory laws are enforced more rigidly than heretofore. I have brought the attention of our people to the mischief the liquor traffic is causing, and, my boy, I am going to continue to follow in God's way and do all an humble woman can do to stamp it out."

"Are you going to continue the hatchet plan?" ventured the newspaper man.

"No, I am going to stop that. I have won a reputation, that is, I have gained enough notoriety for people to listen to what I have to say, and in this way my words may do some good. Had I not used the hatchet, of course no one would have heard of me. Now I can get people to listen, and that is all that is necessary. When once people listen to reason on the temperance question, then they will be brought to a knowledge of the terrible destruction drink is causing."

Mrs. Nation, as has been stated in these columns, was born in Garrard county, near the "Burdett Knobs." She is 57 years of age, and when a tot of two summers she moved to Woodford county. This is her first visit to the old home since that time. She was at her brother's, Mr. T. S. Moore, who, by the way, is living in the old Camp Dick Robinson house, headquarters for troops during the Civil War. Mrs. Nation is a rather large woman, an one of the readiest speakers we ever heard talk. She is, if possible, more bitter on the use of cigarettes than whisky. She doesn't hesitate to slap the pesky things from the dudes' fingers, but does it in such a manner that no one can get mad with her. Mrs. Nation is a Christian woman, she reads her bible constantly and tells us she never does anything without first asking a blessing from God. She told The Record of some of her personal troubles, and no one familiar therewith can blame the woman for taking desperate steps against the rum evil. Of course we will not publish private affairs, but if any one will hear her story, they will not blame her for using a hatchet, or any old thing to fight the traffic.

"I understand you are going on the stage, Mrs. Nation," said The Record man, "is that true?"

"Yes. In November, I go to New York, where I will appear at the Metropolitan Opera House in a drama, 'Hatchetation,' which has been carefully prepared, and I will appear under the management of R. E. Johnson, well-known in theatrical circles. Yes, I do this to make money with which to maintain my Home for Drunkard's Wives, which I have established at Topeka. We have a number of poor women there whose lives have been almost worn out from living with drunken husbands, too trifling to make a living for them. Then, I sell these little hatchets, you see here, for a quarter. All this money, and that from my lectures, goes to the support of this home for poor women, drunkard's wives. What I make on the stage and what I get from the sale of the hatchets and my lectures will maintain this home very well."

"How about the reports of your being placed in jail, Mrs. Nation, were they exaggerated?" queried The Record.

"Well, in some cases they were exaggerated, but I have been behind the bars, my son, and I am willing to go there again if I can save some poor soul from filling a drunkard's grave. Some people may make light of me, but if those who profess to be leaders in working for Christ, would only go to work like I have, more good would be accomplished. I believe in fighting the devil with fire. My only aim in life is to save souls from drunkard's graves, to help the poor women, who, by the way, bear all the suffering from a drunken debauch. It hurts me to hear a man say he suffers from a spree. It is not him, it is the poor little wife, the heart broken mother, on whom the burden falls, not the drunken brute who has staggered home and abused the poor woman. No sir, the time has arrived when those who believe in temperance must so assert themselves, must buckle on their armor (a hatchet if necessary) and fight for right."

"Yes," she continued. "I am glad to get back to my old home, glad to meet Garrard county people. Altho' I have not seen them for many years, I like all Kentuckians, am proud of my birth place, and will always love the blue grass State. I go from here to Port Huron, Michigan, where I am booked for a lecture. Yes, I will try and come back some time."

On her card, Mrs. Nation has printed the words, "A prohibition vote is the only hatchet which breaks down the saloon and builds up the home."

Saturday afternoon she lectured at the court house, and a liberal contribution was taken up. She also spoke after the contest, at same place, that night.

Land, Stock, Crops.

Close observers are reporting a big crop of turkeys, geese, chickens and ducks. Prices are good now and unless the corner folks get in their work the people may hold for good prices.—Mt. Sterling Advocate.

Danville Advocate.—Dick Gentry bought of T. D. English 17 cattle at $400. D. N. Prewitt sold Jerry Caldwell, Jr., 11 head of 1,200 pound cattle at $385. Dick Gentry bought of F. Reid, for Nelson Morris, 43 cattle at $410.

The investigators of the chemical laboratories and agricultural colleges expect to show the farmers something that will do them more good than the mooted plan to control the crops and establish minimum prices, although it will work in an opposite direction by increasing production and perhaps lowering prices.

Horses and mules in Louisiana are fed largely on rice, bran, molasses and some cowpea hay. The mules are allowed to eat molasses without any restriction, and they usually consume from 8 to 12 quarts a day. Director W. C. Stubb, of the Louisiana Station states that this ration keeps them in splendid condition capable of lively action and hard work.

The total value of the poultry and eggs we produced in the last census year was $231,153,247. The industry was worth more than all the cattle and hogs we slaughtered. It was worth more than the wheat crop of twenty-eight states and territories; and the value of our eggs alone was higher than that of the combined gold and silver product of the United States in any year since 1850, except in 1890, when the precious metal exceeded the eggs by $9,413,125.

If the prices of hogs and corn go along together it certainly now looks very much like hogs would go up in price again. This is now past August and the time for the corn plant to be concentrating all its nourishing power in filling the ears, but in fact it is still growing, and at least three weeks late. It is true that for four or five weeks of good corn weather there might be a gain, but at present a splendid nubbins crop is the promise, and therefore higher price hogs to fatten on it. The tendency of course under such conditions is higher priced beef cattle also, for cattle are large corn consumers. But as stated, corn and hogs generally keep company in price more closely, it is evident that hogs will command high prices for another year.—Indiana Farmer.

Science is pursuing the study of corn to learn how by fertilization, hybridization, and tests of soils to increase the yield. It is stated on good authority that in repeated experiments, something like 200 bushels of shelled corn to the acre have been produced. If this can be extended to actual practice on the farms the average corn crop of the United States can be carried up to 5,000,000,000 bushels. There is no reason for doubting that the yield of many kinds of products will be increased by improved scientific methods and discoveries. Production out reduction, is the American rule in agriculture as well as in manufacturing and attempts in any line to cramp or check production will meet with but temporary success and with failure in the end, but what a big man the farmer will be when corn runs 200 bushels to the acre.

The Glasgow Times has been handed the following by a Barren county farmer, with request for its publication. The article is entirely pertinent to the season, is sound and sensible in suggestion and should not escape the attention of a single corn raiser: "It gives but little trouble, yet results in great profit, for farmers to go into their corn fields after the corn is ready to gather and select the very best ears for seed. Let the quality selected be as uniform as possible as to the grain. Ears with grains closely set, taken from stalks that have produced two good ears, are to be preferred. The ears so selected should be hung up in a dry place with the shucks pulled back. By making the selection in the fall, much time is saved when the period of planting comes; besides, a careful selection will result in greatly improving the quality of the crop. A great many crops of corn are grown in which a dozen varieties may be found with very conceivable mixture, but pure white corn, not too hard or flinty on large ears and small cobs, is the best for all purposes of the farm."

Saves Two From Death.
"Our little daughter had an almost fatal attack of whooping cough and bronchitis," writes Mrs. W. K. Haviland of Armonk, N. Better lives at once begin (Bowie knives are not allowed.) Love your neighbors, brethren dear, (Who's that man behind the tree?) Flee whenever temptation's near (Keep your trigger finger free.) Bad companions always shun, (Sergeant, post the picket, please.) Soon your crown of glory's won (Hold your rifles on your knees.) Glory, glory, brethren shout (Captain, keep the troops at hand.) Hallelujahs, all sing out (Use the latest smokeless brand.) Now another glad "Amen!" (Sheriff, sound the riot call! Peace on earth, good will to men, (Never hit me, after all.)

He Learned a Great Truth.
It is said of John Wesley that he once said to Mistress Wesley: "Why do you tell that child the same thing over and over again?" "John Wesley, because once telling is not enough." It is for this same reason that you are told again and again that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cures colds and grip; that it counteracts any tendency of these diseases to result in pneumonia, and that it is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all druggists. 1m

The walnut is a native of Persia, the Caucasus and China.
A Perfect Painless Pill
is the one that will cleanse the system set the liver to action, remove the bile clear the complexion, cure headache and leave good taste in the mouth. The famous little pills for doing such work pleasantly and effectually are DeWitt's Little Early Risers. Bob Moore, of Lafayette, Ind., says: "All other pills I have used gripe and sicken, while DeWitt's Little Early Risers are simply perfect." Sold by F. P. Frisbie. 1m

Pears were brought from the East by the Romans.

Do Good—It Pays.
A Chicago man has observed that, "Good deeds are better than real estate deeds—some of the latter are worthless. Act kindly and gently, show sympathy and lend a helping hand. You cannot possibly lose by it." Most men appreciate a kind word and encouragement more than substantial help. There are persons in this community who might truthfully say: "My good friend, cheer up. A few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will rid you of your cold, and there is no danger whatever from pneumonia when you use that medicine. It always cures. I know it for it has helped me out many a time." Sold by all druggists. 1m

The cucumber was originally a tropical vegetable.

A Cure For Dyspepsia.
I had Dyspepsia in its worst form and felt miserable most all the time. Did not enjoy eating until after I used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure which has completely cured me.—Mrs. W. W. Saylor, Millard, Pa. No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, sour risings, indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach troubles are quickly cured by the use of Kodol. Kodol represents the natural juices of digestion combined with the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. It cleanses, purifies and sweetens the stomach. Sold by F. P. Frisbie. 1m

BILIOUS

People dread the periodic attack of nausea and racking headache which results from derangement of the stomach and sluggish action of the liver. To cure the bilious condition the stomach and liver must be put into a healthy condition, and this result is accomplished by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures indigestion and other diseases of the stomach and its allied organs of digestion and nutrition. It makes the torpid liver active. It cures biliousness by curing the causes which produce it. It purifies the blood from the poisonous substances which clog and corrupt it and which breed and feed disease. Acting directly on the blood-making glands it increases their activity and so increases the supply of pure rich blood, upon which physical health depends.

"I suffered from indigestion, torpid liver and biliousness, and took many different kinds of medicine without receiving any benefit," writes Mr. F. J. Geragano, of Cleveland, Miss. "In May, 1900, I wrote to Dr. R. V. Pierce, and he recommended his 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I have taken about four bottles and am cured of my troublesome disease. At times in hot weather I had fever, and every morning had a bad taste in my mouth, and all through the summer season I was unable to work at all. Now I can work, and, I believe, do as much as any one. Feel that I am under great obligation to you and your wonderful medicine, and cannot say too much for either."

Persons who suffer from disease in chronic form are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of stomach, liver and blood.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets assist the action of the "Discovery."

CONTRACTS TO LET.

Mr. Charles Hager, a star route agent was here this week looking to the letting of the ten mail routes in Garrard county. In order to prevent speculation, it has been the case heretofore, the department has ruled that all bidders must live on or adjacent to the route they bid on, and must agree to perform the service or at least give it their personal supervision. This ruling shuts out the sharks who often live a thousand miles or more distant, and who have never been over the routes they bid on. Bids to be made before Dec. 1st. Postmasters have blanks and copy of all information pertaining to making bids and requirements of service. Ten routes in Garrard county to be contracted for; Nina to McCrory, Lancaster to Danville, Lancaster to Buckeye, Judson to Bryantsville, Point Leavelle to Hammack, Lancaster to Nicholasville, Bryantsville to Burgin, Giles to Buckeye, Sweeney to Lancaster, Paint Lick to Cartersville.

It is not contemplated that any change in the present routes or time of delivery will be made. The sole idea is to do away with the mail route speculators who have made fortunes out of these contracts and permit the local residents to make the profit. However the new plan will give one great advantage in the fact that anyone living on the route traveled by the mail carrier may put up a mail box on the road and have his mail delivered and taken up the same as in rural free delivery. It would be even better than the rural free delivery, from the fact, that the carrier, on his return trip, would take up the mail again, thus permitting of letters being answered the same day as received. The plan is a good one and it is hoped that bids will be offered freely by our people. Postmaster West will gladly give any desired information on the subject.

Dieting Invites Disease.

To cure Dyspepsia or indigestion it is no longer necessary to live on milk and toast. Starvation produces such weakness that the whole system becomes an easy prey to disease. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure enables the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all of the wholesome food that one cares to eat, and is a never failing cure for indigestion. Dyspepsia and all stomach troubles. Kodol digests what you eat—makes the stomach sweet. Sold by F. P. Frisbie.

German Syrup.

We want to impress on our readers that Boschee's German Syrup is positively the only preparation on the market today that does relieve and cure consumption. It contains the specific, such as pure tar, extracts of gum, etc., which have been so highly endorsed for the cure of coughs, colds and consumption by the great medical congresses. The consumptive, whether his disease is in the throat or lungs, must have rest at night, and be free from the spasms of dry and racking cough in the morning. The diseased parts want rest, healing and soothing treatment, and the patient needs fresh air, good food, etc. German Syrup will give free and easy expectation in the morning with speedy and permanent relief. Small bottles, 25 cents; regular size, containing nearly four times as much, 75 cents. At all druggists.

Apricots are indigenous to the plains of America.

A Woman's Complexion.

It is rank foolishness to attempt to remove sallowness or greasiness of the skin by the use of cosmetics, or "local" treatment, as advocated by the "beauty doctors." The only safe and sure way that a woman can improve her complexion is by purifying and enriching the blood, which can only be accomplished by keeping the liver healthy and active. The liver is the seat of disease and blood pollution. Green's August Flower acts directly on the liver, cleanses and enriches the blood purifies the complexion. It also cures constipation, biliousness, nervousness, and induces refreshing sleep. A single bottle of August Flower has been known to cure the most pronounced and distressing cases of dyspepsia and indigestion. New trial size bottle 25 cents; regular size, 75 cents. At all druggists.

The pea is a native of the south of Europe.

Never Ask Advice.

When you have a cough or cold don't ask what is good for it and get some medicine with little or no merit and perhaps dangerous. Ask for Foley's Honey and Tar, the greatest throat and lung remedy, it cures coughs and colds quickly. C. C. & J. E. Stormes.
